Please note the following:

I have met with Rowly Williams and Nick Evans, the two Directors of theTeamof3, on several occasions. I have no reason to doubt that this site will be of benefit to match officials; however it is for your members to decide whether the offer will be of value to them. Six match officials are currently trialling the site on behalf of the RFU Referee Department and will provide regular feedback to us. When this feedback has been evaluated we will be able to make a more informed judgement as to the effectiveness of the offer.
